DEFECTOR HERE SAYS HE IS SON OF CZAR

A defector from Communist Poland who was an informant for the Central Intelligence Agency said last night that he was Alexei, the only son of Nicholas II, the last Czar of Russia.

The assertion was made by Michal Goleniewski in a taped radio interview with Barry Faber on WOR.

Mr. Goleniewski, who alleged that his true identity was known to Allen Dulles, the former head of the C.I.A., also said that his four sisters were also alive. He added that one of them, Anastasia, lives in New York under the name of Eugenia Smith.

He said that the execution of the immediate members of the Romanov family was staged and that all the members of the family, including the Czar and Czarina, escaped.

He said his father died in Poland in 1924 and his mother in 1952.

Mr. Goleniewski defected to the United States in 1961. Reports published last March credited him with disclosures that led to the arrest of some Soviet bloc agents working in the United States.
